

BILL IS SENT TO GOV. LA FOLLETTE

Assembly Pass Hagemister Substitute to Stevens Election Bill.

VOTE STOOD 48 TO 46

There is Considerable Doubt as to Whether the Governor Will Sign It.

TO CUT OIL INSPECTORS FEES

Madison, Wis., May 3.—The Hagemister primary election bill passed by the senate applying the primary election system to county officers only and then only when adopted by the county, was concurred in by the assembly today 48 to 46. This result was reached after motions to adopt the assembly amendments and to ask for a conference committee were defeated by a tie vote 48 to 48. The bill now goes to Governor La Follette. There is considerable doubt as to whether he will sign it.

The bill reducing the fees of the inspector of illuminating oils to a salary of $1,500 per year instead of $5,000 fees passed the senate. The bill providing for a woman factory inspector passed and the bill providing for a woman on the board of control, stated by the claims committee for killing, was advanced to the third reading. The Frost bill taxing mortgages was concurred in by the senate without discussion.

Governor La Follette sent a veto to the assembly of the bill providing districts for the justices of the peace in Milwaukee.

VETO OF DOG LICENSE BILL

Several Members of Assembly Leave for Home Disgusted.

Madison, Wis., May 3.—Governor La Follette's severe arraignment of the legislature for discrediting the tax commission was read in the assembly amid profound silence. Immediately afterward that body killed the ad valorem railway taxation bill. As soon as the vote was announced Assemblyman Alfred Cook of Wausau picked up his hat and said that he was going home—that there was no use in attempting any meritorious legislation. He left for home last night.

Cook was elected as a democrat, his seat being contested by G. E. Vandercook, republican, but the republican assembly seated him, and he has generally voted with the republicans. Other legislators are leaving and their action is causing a sensation.

In his message vetoing the bill for a license fee on dogs Governor La Follette criticizes the legislature for refusing to follow the recommendations of the tax commission, which would make quasi-public corporations bear their share of taxation.

Governor La Follette's Veto.

The message says in part:

The bill proposes to exact a license fee of from $1 to $3 from every owner or keeper of a dog. Residents of cities and villages can escape payment of such a tax by ceasing to own or keep dogs. Upon the farm, however the watch dog and shepherd are as much a necessity as the other domestic animals which they guard and protect, and the license fee would amount to an increase in taxation. The fee or tax proposed may not be esteemed by the legislature a serious burden in itself, but it would add to the burdens borne by a great majority of the people which are already out of all proportion to those borne by others whose influence would seem to be more potent in shaping legislation.

"I am aware that members of the legislature are desirous of an adjournment of this session at the earliest possible day, but I am certain that the people of this state are more anxious for an approximately equitable distribution of the tax burden, even if the session should be protracted thereby. For the reasons herein stated I am unwilling to give to the people of this state, in lieu of the legislation to equalize taxation which has been promised to them and which they have a right to expect from representative government, a scheme which in a general way, may be described as an act to increase the burden of the farmer by imposing a license fee on his dog."

CRITICISE GOVERNOR'S VETO.

Such an Unusual Way of Sending a Message to the Legislature.

Madison, Wis., May 3.—Yesterday was a record-breaking day in the legislature. It defeated the taxation measure, advanced the senatorial apportionment bill, threw the primary election fight back into the assembly and advanced general business a long way, but did not settle the question of adjournment. The matter is still as problematical as it was Wednesday and it will not be settled this week. The senate will take no action upon it until the apportionment bill has been signed by the governor, and that cannot be before the early part of next week. It will be almost impossible to hold the members here after May 11, but the attempt may have to be made.

Hold Up Congressional Matter.

The special committee still adheres to its determination not to touch the congressional apportionment until the senatorial bill has been disposed of. That will leave very little time for the work if the members insist upon going home on May 11, as appears likely, and if the congressional-at-large plan cannot be agreed upon the state may not get its eleventh congressman.

Governor's Veto Criticized.

The sensation of the day was Governor La Follette's remarkable veto of a bill taxing dogs in which he aired his views at length on railroad taxation. It was such an unusual way of sending a message to the legislature and the most of the veto was so foreign to the bill under discussion, that the document met with a great deal of criticism. Even the Governor's followers expressed their disapproval of it.

POOL SELLING BILL UP.

Assembly Advances Measure to Regulate Horse Races.

Madison, Wis., May 3.—Assemblyman Rossman's pool selling bill was ordered to engrossment and third reading in the assembly last night. Mr. Rossman offered an amendment to the original bill providing that only the ten days of pool selling be allowed at any one track. The bill as advanced provides that pools may be sold on harness races only and that such betting must be done within the track enclosure. All females and males under twenty-one years of age are barred from participating in the betting.

A perfect flood of committee reports were received in the senate last night and the calendar today is longer than at any time this session. This overwhelming influx of bills that have been resting quietly in the various little tin committee boxes for many weary weeks was due to the introduction of the McGillivray resolution, providing that all bills be reported by this morning. The resolution was not adopted until it was introduced and it was laid over until today, but it stirred the committees up.

PEACE IS IN SIGHT IN SOUTH AFRICA

British War Office Feels Hopeful That the Destructive Fight Will Soon Be Over.

Cape Town, May 3.—The Boers are concentrating near Klerksdorp in the Southwestern Transvaal near the Vaal river. General Babington has had frequent engagements with the enemy.

London, May 3.—The Standard says today that the war office is now more hopeful of terminating the South African war than it has been for weeks. The paper says the arrangements for food and forage for the army, based on expectations that hostilities would be prolonged, are likely to be cancelled.

COSTLY FIRE IN CHICAGO TODAY

Slaughter House of the Armour Plant is Destroyed—Loss Will Reach Over $175,000.

Chicago, May 3.—Fire which threatened to destroy property valued at millions of dollars started early this morning in the slaughter house of the Armour Plant. The building was entirely destroyed. The loss will be over one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars. A three foot fire wall prevented the flames from reaching the cooling and ice rooms where a million dollars' worth of dressed beef was stored.

TERRIBLE FAMINE IN NORTHERN CHINA

The People Are Eating the Grass as It Grows—Want and Starvation Throughout Bessarabia.

Caracas, Venezuela, May 3.—President Castro has issued a decree providing for the continuation of the Organic law through a new court established under the provisions of a new constitution. This action is interpreted here as evidence of his determination that the Venezuela question shall not be settled except by Venezuelan courts.

Plans for Martinelli.

Washington, May 3.—It is authoritatively stated that Cardinal Martinelli will remain in this country a year as the representative of the pope with the title of pro-delegate to the United States.

PALL BEARERS WERE IN UNIFORM; QUAIN FUNERAL AT MILWAUKEE

First Ceremony of the Kind in This Country—Professionals Engaged to Conduct Impressive Burial Services—Attracted Attention.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 3.—With stately measured tread and with faces solemn and severe, six of the members of the Milwaukee Uniformed Pallbearers' association made their first public appearance yesterday, marching slowly beside the heavily curtained hearse and black draped horses, that bore the remains of Mrs. Natalie Weise to their last resting place yesterday afternoon.

It was a weird spectacular cortege, and curious faces appeared at windows along the streets, as it passed slowly by; and the small children to whom the conventional funeral procession is commonplace, retreated to the safety of their front yards, to escape a fancied pall that seemed to surround the procession.

First in This Country.

It was probably the first appearance of professional pall bearers, uniformed and carrying their small silver side arms, in this country. And if proper funeral deportment at a burial service constitutes success, this experiment was successful. This service was over the remains of Mrs. Carl Weise, who was the aged relict of Dr. Carl Weise, the latter having died nineteen years ago. She was over 80 years old and had lived in Milwaukee on the South Side for nearly sixty years.

The strictest of ritual was observed, though no religious personages were present, nor in charge of the service. Otto Soubbron, speaker of the Freie Gemeinde, and an old friend of the family, made a brief address in German over the body, which lay in a casket in the front parlor.

ALARMS THE HIGH PROTECTION MEN

Rebellion of Babcock and the Heresies Taught by Director Roberts Concerning the Tariff.

Washington, May 3.—The recent rebellion of Representative Babcock of Wisconsin and the heresies taught by Mr. Roberts, the director of the mint, and others concerning the tariff, are causing considerable alarm among the high protection leaders of the republican party, as soon as the president returns from California they will endeavor to secure his influence in silencing those who are advocating a reduction of duties.

This will be difficult if not impossible, because President McKinley, as a loyal a protectionist as there is in the republican party, is himself of the opinion that modifications in the tariff must be made to meet changed conditions, and that it is wise for the republican party to make them voluntarily at the next presidential campaign.

In other words, President McKinley is a strong believer in the reciprocity theory and considers it the best policy to promote the foreign trade by exchanging tariff concessions with the countries whose markets we are seeking. He realizes that we have got to cut down duties sooner or later and is in favor of discriminating in the interest of countries that will reciprocate in a similar manner.

There Will Be No Financial Panic

Mark Hanna Says There is Not a Cloud in the Sky—Turned Over a New Leaf.

New York, May 3.—"Uncle Russell is of the past. There will be no panic and no Black Friday." So said Senator Marcus A. Hanna himself a great financial engineer at the Waldorf Astoria yesterday afternoon. He made the remark when at the conclusion of a statement made by him that prosperity was evident on all sides. Russell Sage's recent prediction of a Black Friday on Wall street was called to his attention.

"The prosperity," he continued, "which the president will see on all sides of him as he passed through the country today will be the best evidence of the success of his administration."

"Will the prosperity continue?" was asked.

"There is not a cloud in the sky. I cannot prophesy anything dangerous or threatening. We have turned over a new leaf. We cannot measure the present by the past."

When the Senator was asked if the president's tour of the country meant the beginning of a campaign for a third term, he replied: "That's ridiculous."

Russell Sage denied today a published story that he had lost $1,000,000 in the present boom in stocks.

"I am not in the market to lose a dollar," he said.

"I had one call for $1,000,000 in cash at 4 1/2 and other calls for about two million around 4 per cent."

FINISH SURVEY OF NICARAGUA ROUTE

United States Engineers Have Finished Their Work—Cost of Canal Estimated at $210,000,000.

Washington, May 3.—The engineers who have been making a survey for a canal in Nicaragua have finished their work at last and the party will leave for home on the steamer that sails the 11th of May. A few people will be left to pay the bills and look after the property that will be stored there, but the survey is practically done and a route has been selected and staked out in detail. The rough estimate of the cost of constructing a canal along this line is $210,000,000, but that is subject to correction when the final report of the engineers is received.

HOUSTON WELCOMES PRESIDENTIAL PARTY

There was a carriage drive around the town and then exercises and speechmaking at the Auditorium. Governor Sayers and staff will accompany the party to Austin this afternoon where he will give an informal banquet to the president and his cabinet.

Clue to Kidnapers False.

Washington, May 3.—The Washington clue in the Willie McCormick alleged kidnaping case is about exploded. The detectives have practically concluded that the slip of paper and the mysterious coincidence by which it came into their possession were the result of connivance between parties in New York who had access to the McCormick home and others.

Mayor Drinks; Council Says "Resign."

Logansport, Ind., May 3.—At a session of the city council last night a resolution was passed demanding the resignation of Mayor George P. McKee, who is charged in the resolution with being an excessive user of intoxicating liquors. The order is to take effect at once.

FRENZY OF PUBLIC ALARMS BANKERS

Raise Rate for Call Loans and Stock Sales Fall Off.

FEARS A STOCK PANIC

Rage for Speculation in Stock Has Seized All Classes of People.

FORTUNES ARE MADE IN A DAY

New York, May 3.—The bankers of wall street, alarmed at the recent wild speculations on the stock exchange, have determined that it is time to put on the brakes. At a number of informal conferences held in Wall street today and yesterday the situation was reviewed and it was determined that while the outlook was highly favorable and that conditions both in the commercial and financial world were fairly sound the present speculative frenzy on the part of the public, if allowed to continue, is liable to force a crisis, which might have serious results.

Money Reached Six Per Cent.

The first step to bring the brokers and the public to their senses was exercised early this morning. When the brokers went to their banks to arrange for their day's loan they were taken inside and given a talk by the bank presidents.

The effect was noticeable all around. The National City bank put up its price for loans almost at the beginning of the trading and rates for call money were steadily advanced until 6 per cent had been reached. This checked the speculation to some extent and brought about a more conservative policy all around.

The effect of the action on the banks was shown in the market throughout the day. The volume of trading was, it is true, very large, but was mostly on a declining scale.

Everybody is Making Money

The big fellows are not taking all of the profits in Wall street. It is the public's market. The barber, the plumber, the waiter, the dressmaker, the clerk are sharing the harvest. Persons who do not know the A. B. C. of speculation have scraped together little hoards and taken the plunge. Some have realized fortunes. Others have not been so lucky. People out of town are swelling the river of gold flowing into Wall street by their contributions. Money poured in today from every town of any size. The fever is universal.

MILWAUKEE READY FOR THE TRAINMEN

Milwaukee, May 3.—Grand Secretary and Treasurer King of the Railway Trainmen's National association will arrive in the city tomorrow and open headquarters at the Plankinton house, where the committee on beneficiary has been at work all of the week. Grand Master Morrissey will arrive on Sunday, with about 600 delegates, who will come on a special train over the Chicago and Northwestern road. The convention will open on Monday at the West Side Turner hall, continuing in session about ten days.

James McConnell, master of the Milwaukee lodge, will call the open session to order and will introduce the speakers who will extend welcomes to the visitors. Governor La Follette has been asked to deliver the address in the behalf of the state, and Mayor Rose will speak in behalf of the city. Former Governor Geo. W. Peck will also deliver an address, having declined an invitation from elsewhere in order that he might meet the railway boys.

Raisin Raisers Unite.

Fresno, Cal., May 3.—The Pacific Coast Seeded Raisin association has been incorporated, with a capital of $300,000, all subscribed. The incorporators represent five firms that sell 90 per cent of the seeded raisins produced in California and 75 per cent of the raw product. The object of the new association is to economize expenses in manufacturing raisins.

Trade with Yankers Grows.

Copenhagen, May 3.—The United Steamship company of Copenhagen has ordered six new steamers of 12,000 tons each for the United States trade. On account of the increase in American exports it has been decided to open a regular line to Boston and increase the number of steamers on the New York and New Orleans routes.

Hubonic Plague in Turkey.

Constantinople, May 3.—A case of illness has occurred at Galata (the largest suburb of Constantinople), which is officially announced to be the hubonic plague. Precautions are being taken to prevent a spread of the plague.

CATARRH

Catarrh has become such a common disease that a person entirely free from this disgusting complaint is seldom met with. It is customary to speak of Catarrh as nothing more serious than a bad cold, a simple inflammation of the nose and throat. It is, in fact, a complicated and very dangerous disease; if not at first, it very soon becomes so.

The blood is quickly contaminated by the foul secretions, and the poison through the general circulation is carried to all parts of the system.

Salves, washes and sprays are unsatisfactory and disappointing, because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. does. It cleanses the blood of the poison and eliminates from the system all catarrhal secretions, and thus cures thoroughly and permanently the worst cases.

Mr. P. H. McAllister, of Harrodsburg, Ky., writes: "Having been a terrible sufferer from Catarrh, and being now sound and well, the question often put to me is, 'What cured you?' In answer I feel it my duty to state that Swift's Specific is the medicine. I am such a true believer in the efficacy of Swift's Specific that I can honestly and conscientiously recommend it to any one suffering from Catarrh. Have recommended it to many, and am happy to say that those whom I have induced to use it can bear me out in the statement that it will cure any case of Catarrh if taken according to directions."

SSS is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the greatest of all blood medicines and tonics.

If you have Catarrh don't wait until it becomes deep-seated and chronic, but begin at once the use of S. S. S., and send for our book on blood and skin diseases and write our physicians about your case.

SCENE IN EASTMAN TRIAL

Dead Man's Mother Carried from Bed to Testify.

RECALLS STRANGE WORDS.

She Says That the Defendant Had Repeatedly Asserted That the Days of His Victim Were Few—One Juror Sheds Tears.

Boston, Mass., May 3.—The dramatic episode of the entire Eastman trial was reached at noon, when Mrs. R. H. Grogan, the venerable mother of the dead man, took the stand and swore that a few days before the killing of her son Eastman had said in her hearing: "His days are few." Mrs. Grogan was brought to court from the bed to which she has been confined for the last three months. The doctors had advised against her removal, but the Sheriff's officers appeared at the home with imperative orders to bring her into court. Maud and Florence Grogan, the two daughters, dressed their mother and she was carried in a chair out to a carriage, driven to the courthouse, and carried in a chair to the witness stand. Her appearance was that of a woman who was undergoing great mental and physical suffering. She spoke in low tones, being hardly able to articulate. She called for water within a minute after rising from the witness chair, and her hand shook like one with palsy as she held the glass to her lips, assisted by her daughter Florence. The examination lasted only a few minutes, the defense mercifully not cross-examining the woman, owing to her condition.

Testimony of Mrs. Grogan.
Mrs. Grogan testified as follows: "I called at Dick's house one evening—I think it was on June 26—just before he went to New York. I was invited to dinner. Dick and his wife were present. Eastman came in, and helped himself to a glass of milk, saying that he needed it for his health. Mrs. Eastman was standing there, and after Dick had spoken, Eastman turned to us—Lizzie, Mrs. Eastman, and myself—and said: 'His days are few, his days are short.' Mrs. Eastman said: 'Why, Charlie, what is the matter? You must have been drinking; you have been drinking. You don't know what you are talking about. What have you been saying?' Then Eastman turned to us and repeated again what he had said: 'His days are very few.' Eastman looked angry." Mrs. Grogan testified to having had a talk with her son Dick about the meaning of Eastman's remark, but she was not allowed to repeat the conversation. Continuing she testified: "Another time Eastman came to Dick's house. Lizzie was upstairs talking with some one. I heard a man's voice. The talk was pleasant. Then Dick—"

At this point the defense objected to this evidence, and the witness was not allowed to continue. She was not cross-examined, and was assisted from the stand. Eastman, though holding himself well in hand, was plainly affected by this testimony. The effect on the jury was evident. Tears stood in the eyes of Juror Knight.

CANNING FACTORY MAKING PROGRESS

The Foundation Walls Are About Finished—Machinery Will Be Ready When Building Is Finished.

Contractor Peters has a large force of men employed on the canning factory buildings which are being rushed along as rapidly as possible. The foundation walls are about finished and the material for the walls and frame work has all arrived so there will be no delay in getting the plant completed.

There can be no delay in getting the plant finished if it is to handle the season's crops. Mr. Hohenadel, reports that the machinery will be ready by the time that the buildings are completed and will be of the latest improved pattern. The plant is being constructed with an idea of not what it will do this year but what it will do in years to come.

The acreage secured this year is not as large as expected would be contracted for but the promoters figure that next year there will be very little trouble in securing all of the acreage necessary to operate the plant to its full capacity. They have rented one hundred and fifty acres of E. W. Fisher which will be planted to corn cabbage and cucumbers.

The greater portion of these have been of the rubber tire style. Many of these rigs have attracted much attention on account of their stylish appearance, beauty, and comfort giving qualities. The pneumatic bike turned out by the Wisconsin Carriage company, has proved most popular. During the past few weeks the Wisconsin company have been unable to fill all their orders. Their local factory has been running till 10 o'clock at night with a force of seventy-five hands. Daily car shipments are being made to all parts of the country. Last Saturday five salesmen were busily engaged all day with purchasers in the repository. This enterprising firm are well entitled to this prosperous business. At no time have they failed to live up to all promises, and at all times they have put forth extra efforts to please their patrons.

The citizens of Janesville can well feel proud of this enterprising firm and their model factory.

Common Sense Talk

Much has been said of late about great discounts on pianos, also a saving of many dollars on each piano. That looks well on paper. But if you will take pains to examine our line of pianos you will find quality and durability and prices at the lowest. We have no special time for discounts; you get them every day in the year. We make a specialty of high grade pianos and the best that money can buy. We do not build up our trade on cheap pianos. The cheapest instruments to buy are the best, and the best way to buy them is cash. The second best way to buy is to pay down all this cash you can; and the poorest way to buy a piano is no cash down and $3.00 to $5.00 per month. You had better wait until you have $50.00, at the least. Then go where you can get value received. Remember our pianos are of the best; and none better; and will prove it if you will step in our store. Our motto is "Honest pianos and low prices." We never deal in thump boxes. Call and see our pianos before you buy. 38 South Main street H. F. Nott.

Schools Receive Parents.

Parents receptions were held at the Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Webster, Lincoln and Jefferson schools this afternoon and were largely attended. The parents were received by the teachers in the various buildings and seemed to take great interest in the examining of the work which had been done by the pupils. Many of the rooms were attractively decorated for the occasion. At the Jackson school the program of Arbor day exercises was held in connection with the reception instead of in the morning as at the other schools.

TRIP TO INSPECT LIBRARY BUILDINGS

Supt. D. D. Mayne, Judge Charles L. Fifield and Michael Hayes of the plans committee of the library board, leave tomorrow morning for a visit to Oshkosh, Menasha, Appleton and other cities in the state for the purpose of inspecting library buildings and getting information and suggestions for use in preparing plans for the local library. When Alderman Frank Fifield and H. S. Gilkey were in Oshkosh they visited the public library and were very much pleased with its arrangement. They suggested that it would be wise for some one from the library board to make the trip to Oshkosh before plans for the Janesville building were drawn. The suggestion was welcomed by the members of the plans committee who desire that the building fund be expended to the very best advantage and as there are several other excellent buildings in the state it was decided to extend the trip. This decision was reached at a meeting of the committee which was held yesterday afternoon.

PUSH SURVEY ON THE ELECTRIC ROAD

The Force is Now Below the Happy Hollow School House on the River Road.

The survey on the Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville electric line between Beloit and Janesville has reached the happy hollow school house on the river road.

The problem of getting up the steep grade on the Hughes farm has not been definitely settled as two routes are under consideration and both have their advantages and disadvantages. The question that gets the most consideration in the location of the route, is that of the amount of grade necessary to get up the hill.

A number of people have come to an understanding with the promoters as to what they are to receive for their right of way. They hope to be able to get everything in this line fixed up in a few days. Quite a quantity of supplies have been ordered for the construction of the road which will be commenced as soon as the survey is completed and the right of way is all secured.

ADVANCE SALE IS DISGRACE TO CITY

Stuart Robson and His First Class Company Should Receive a Large Audience This Evening.

The amusement loving people of Janesville must awaken to the fact that it is necessary for them to patronize high grade attractions when Manager Myers brings them to the local theatre if they wish him to continue securing them.

When an actor of such great repute as Stuart Robson honors a city of this size he should receive a greeting worthy of his high standing. The advance sale for tonight's attraction is a disgrace to any city which makes pretensions to refinement. Stuart Robson is an actor of international reputation. He plays to large audiences in the metropolitan theatres, and his prominence in his calling is such that the leading magazines devoted much space to stories concerning him and his home life. He only gives two weeks of his entire season to one night stands and it is difficult to understand why the people do not recognize the fact that this is a rare dramatic opportunity.

Of course there is no way of compelling people to patronize the theatre but if they continually refuse to support Manager Myers in his efforts to secure the best attractions, they should realize what the consequence must be. Every small audience at a high grade attraction makes it more difficult to secure bookings. Richard Mansfield appeared here twice to beggarly houses and a year ago when Manager Myers tried to secure him for one night at the end of the season, he was informed that money enough could not be packed into the Janesville theatre to induce him to consider a proposition.

People who enjoy good theatres and can afford to attend them owe it to themselves to help protect the local manager. Certainly the time worn complaints of too many good shows in a week or of being afraid of being sold by a poor attraction cannot apply to the Stuart Robson production. Something else must be responsible for the poor sale.

ized the marriage. The newly married couple will reside with the
